Technical Consulting: For Partners

Execute technical services for your customers with confidence.

Work with a dedicated HubSpot Technical Consultant for expert guidance on deploying HubSpot software for your customers.

Why Technical Consulting?

Managing multiple customers means managing multiple use cases. It can be difficult to know the nuanced solutions for every scenario—all while balancing success and retention across your customers.

Need help bringing an almost-complete project over the finish line? A check on your work? A session for multiple questions about multiple customers? Then Technical Consulting is for you. You'll benefit from:

Dedicated time for answers.

No more wasted time finding your own answers—bring your technically complex questions directly to a HubSpot expert.

Learning while doing.

1 on 1 technical consulting empowers you to learn without interrupting service delivery, so you don't miss any revenue opportunities.

A consistent collaborator.

By working with a consistent consultant, you spend more time problem solving and less time problem setting.

Pricing

Up to 5 hours of remote access per month to a HubSpot Technical Consultant for 1 year
$1,750/month

Reach out to your Channel Consultant for more details.
This offering is available in English, German, French, Spanish, and Japanese.

HubSpot